
Changes to International Sports Management Regulations

To note: From 2025 - 26. Students are strongly advised to register for a minimum of 30 credits per year. We reserve the right to cease your registration and, if applicable, award any exit qualifications you have satisfied the requirements for if you do not meet this requirement.

Period of registration

2.3

The minimum and maximum periods of registration to complete the programme are counted from your effective date of registration.

See the Programme Specification for the minimum periods of registration applicable to this programme. See the General Regulations for the maximum period of registration. 2.4

If you start by taking individual modules and then register for the PGCert in International Sports Management, we will give you a new maximum period of registration for the PGCert.

Each module runs for a 16-week study session that begins in either January/February or September.

Order in which to take the modules

2.5

You are advised to attempt a minimum of one core module in the first session in which you are registered before you attempt the elective modules in any subsequent session.

2.6

If you are registered for the PGCert you are permitted to attempt a maximum of three credit bearing modules in one session before you attempt your remaining module(s) in subsequent sessions.

Individual modules

2.7

You may apply to take up to three credit-bearing modules (45 credits), subject to availability, on a stand-alone basis without being registered for the PGCert. If you apply to progress to the PGCert and this is approved, you will be credited with any individual modules successfully completed within three years of your initial registration.

2.8

If you are permitted to progress from an individual module(s) to the PGCert and have not already taken a core module, you must select one when you first register for the PGCert.

Module availability

2.9

Not all modules are available in each study session. Please see Appendix B for further details.
